

Parent Webinar

Owning Your Role as a Parent

Knowing When to Step In, and Step Back

Details: On Zoom, Thursday 27 March at 6:30 PM (AEDT)

Parenting can feel like a constant balancing act between stepping in, guiding, and creating space for children to develop independence. At times, it can be hard to know which approach is going to get the best result. You're not alone: many parents struggle with finding the right balance!

Join us to learn three key parenting strategies that can help you navigate challenging situations with your children:

When to Interrupt

How to best navigate the balancing act between stepping in or allowing your child room to grow

Leading by Example

How your own actions and words influence your child's behaviour and attitudes

Advocating & Escalating

How to support your child's needs proactively and when to seek external help or resources.
